YOUR FIRST STEP

Dream. Learn. Build.

As you think about your professional future—and the available opportunities in social work and as a clinician—consider an internship with Wheeler as an integral part of your Master's degree in Social Work (MSW) degree program.

With more than 100 community-based programs serving people across Connecticut, we deliver strengths- and evidence-based behavioral health and primary care services, and a broad array of programs and linkages to resources in the community.

If you are interested in Wheeler as an internship location, visit our website, wheelerclinic.org/internships, and follow the directions to apply. Your application will be received by our Clinical Trainer/ Internship Coordinator, who will begin the process of matching intern applicants with available internships. For successful applicants, after the internship paperwork and orientation is complete, our Senior Director of Internships will be in touch.

ABOUT THE WHEELER DIFFERENCE

A Program Designed for You.

Wheeler's internship program is focused on your progress and your needs. We provide a weekly seminar class to assist with various topics that emerge in clinical practice, including:

- Safety and prevention
- Substance use and treatment
- Termination with clients
- And more

Our MSW track interns receive additional assistance with the LMSW exam, as well as one-on-one attention from an LCSW to help prepare for that exam. Interns also have the opportunity to take a pre-test to determine the areas where they need the most help. By the end of the internship, students should feel prepared to take the LMSW exam. Additionally, MSW graduates who are newly hired by Wheeler will be offered one-on-one assistance with studying for the LMSW exam.
